

"HOLDIN' THE DOOR"

You've been takin' all my time, an' you're not even here.

*I've been startin' to unwind. Is that me in the mirror?*

I can't think of anybody else but you. Wish you'd call just to tell me we're through.

I can't live for innuendoes anymore. Just come in or stop, holdin' the door...

So I can... see you for the first time...be the only girl on your mind...

feel like we're in love again... real, like we were so much more than friends...

You've been sendin' subtle signs...wish the message was clear.

I've been hopin' to rewind, but I won't interfere.

CHORUS

Come on over...

Come on over, just cross that line.

Come on over.

Come on over, before I leave "us" behind...

You've got questions on your mind...that I can't even hear.

I've been speakin' out of line, an' I don't even care...

CHORUS

CHORUS

You've been takin' all my time, an' you're not even here.
